DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 12/07/2004 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner. However, it is noted that there are two marked off references, which have not been considered because the content of the said references are not in the English language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 6,241,747 to Ruff.

(claim 1) Ruff discloses a surgical thread 2 capable for use in cosmetic operations made of a polymeric material (col. 4, lines 29-31), containing successively arranged along its length inclined notched protrusions made in the form of conical barbs 6 with pointed flexible and elastic ends (see Figs. 1 and 2), the barbs positioned on several sides along the section of the thread with a successively alternating inclination.

(claim 2) As seen in Fig. 2, the elevation of the barb ends is less than the diameter of the thread. Also, as seen in Figs. 1-2, the interval between the barbs are less than two diameters of the thread.

(claim 3) As seen in Figs. 1-2, the notched barbs are provided on two opposite sides of the thread, the direction of their inclination being opposite as well (Fig. 3)

(claim 4) The barbs are provided on two sides with an alternating direction of their inclination (Fig. 4).

(claim 5) The barbs provided on two sides are directed oppositely to each other from the center of the thread (Fig. 5).

(claim 7) The barbs are positioned in a staggered order along the thread (Figs. 1-2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
6. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ruff.

Ruff discloses the barbs to be integrally formed with the suture thread, wherein the barbs are viewed as needles, or pointed objects. Ruff is silent with regards to the barbs having sockets for fixation on the thread. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to separate the barbs from the suture thread using sockets or any other attachment means because it has been held that constructing a formerly integral structure in various elements involves only routine skill in the art. In re Dulberg, 289 F.2d 522, 523, 129 USPQ 348, 349 (CCPA 1961).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
